

SPRINGFIELD TECHNICAL COMMUNITY COLLEGE

ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

Course Number: PSYC 109 Department: Psychology

Course Title: Human Relations Semester: Spring Year: 1997

Objectives/Competencies

Course Objective	Competencies
<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. To learn skills in Human Relations that will enable the student to participate in the world around them.2. To appreciate, utilize and understand the importance of using a scientific approach toward human behavior.3. To provide a sharper and more accurate picture of the nature and content of Human Relations.4. To give the student a realistic view of the dynamic interplay of people and their structured integration into a coordinated environment.5. To provide the student with an accurate understanding of important Human Relationship concepts.6. To develop capacities for critical thinking on the part of the student.	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. To exhibit communications skills through class discussions and cooperation skills when working in group assignments.2. To write papers and essays that exhibit evidence of the students' understanding of the scientific approach to human behavior.3. To demonstrate the knowledge of the nature and content of Psychology by accurately using and applying its terminology and vocabulary.4. To be able to work cooperatively and to agree or disagree with views and attitudes of classmates in a constructive manner.5. To succeed on classroom tests and assignments.

Course Objective	Competencies
7. To familiarize the student with important research findings and basic principles of behavior. 8. To enhance self understanding and thereby enhance sensitivity toward others. 9. To help the student understand critical psychological and mental health issues facing our society today.	6. To be able to demonstrate in class how different theories relate to each other and be able to evaluate each one. 7. To be able to complete assignments on research findings and basic principles of behavior by way of term papers or Internet assignments. 8. To articulate ideas that show understanding of self and others. 9. To be able to discuss mental health issues in the classroom that are worthy of discussion.