

SPRINGFIELD TECHNICAL COMMUNITY COLLEGE

ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

Course Number: HIST 425 Department: History

Course Title: Women in History Semester: Spring Year: 1999

Objectives/Competencies

Course Objective	Competencies
1. An awareness and an understanding of women's role in history. 2. Comprehending assigned reading material and class lectures. 3. Analyzing facts, myths, and stereotypes of women in different historical periods. 4. Developing a historical research paper (college level).	1. Student is able to recognize and acknowledge women's role in the domestic, economic, and political sphere. 1. Using both primary and secondary sources, student is able to identify and explain women's significant contributions to society. 2. Student demonstrates ability in taking exams. 3. Student is able to share his or her ideas, comments, and opinions during class discussions and oral presentations. 1. Student is able to examine women in the context of different periods, such as the Colonial period, Anti-Slavery period, Gilded Age, and the twentieth century. 2. Student is able to compare and contrast women's status regarding economics and demographics. 1. Student is able to establish a specific topic. 2. Student is able to use the library and other sources to

Course Objective	Competencies
5. Providing student with a better understanding and appreciation of women through a multicultural perspective.	research paper. 3. Student demonstrates ability in interpreting sources and communicating their importance on paper. 4. Student is able to correctly use the MLA style to document paper. 1. Student is able to broaden and deepen his or her intellectual curiosity regarding women in history. 2. Student is able to value women's rights and support them in the home, workplace, and in the community.